WASHINGTON April 20—The [illegible] railroad committee considered Garland's bill to extend ten years the time for completion of the Texas Pacific railroad Its terms were made identical with those of the amended Northern Pacific bill and the committee by a majority of one vote decided to report a bill for action without recommendation Some members say that this will be changed to a positive recommendation before the bill is reported to the senate

BLAINE AND GRANT IN ILLINOIS

Blaine will Undoubtedly Take the State—Blaine Clubs in Nearly Every County.

[From the Chicago Times April 8]

A somewhat bitter struggle has for a fortnight past been going on in the bosom of the republican party in this state, the inwardness of which was indicated some time ago by the publication in the Times of copies of circulars sent out by the state central committee and by the executive committee of the Blaine organization. That those who are unfamiliar with political details may understand the case clearly, it should be stated that the machine was captured by Logan and his friends, something over a year ago, and that they still hold possession of it. The name of Logan in this connection means Grant. The Blaine people, headed by Hon. C. B. Farwell, James P Root, and B A Hurlbut, undertook, in the interest of their candidate, to offset the machine influence in Illinois by getting up an organization which, without assuming to openly antagonize or rival the state central committee, should rally as against the influences of Logan. Blaine clubs have been formed in nearly every county in the state, and reports received at headquarters in this city are so encouraging that Mr Root and the other gentlemen concerned here have no hesitation in asserting that Gen Logan will be thrashed in his own dooryard, so to speak and that Grant's own state will give a solid delegation to the man from Maine The Grant people, upon whom the magnitude of the Blaine party's operations has begun to dawn are fairly alarmed, and from this time forward considerable activity may be expected in that quarter To give the Illinois delegation to Blaine will beat the Grant men so badly as to deprive them of all chance of a share in the spoils in the event of Grant's winning, or of his death, or retirement through any possibility now unforeseen. Besides the Grant men, providing against such a possibility, are looking to the preservation of a perfect accord between Illinois, New York, and Pennsylvania, whereby concentration upon some other man (perhaps Mr Washburn) might be effected Should the delegation be instructed for Blaine, they will be completely shut out from all future chances. There is something akin to a panic among the Logan-Grant men, and something like a combination of all the other elements against them

GRANT'S GOOD LUCK.

HOW HE SECURED HIS APPOINTMENT TO WEST POINT.

[Columbus, O, Corr Cincinnati Commercial]

There has been much query of late years as to whether Gen. Grant owed his success to his pluck, perseverance and shrewdness, or simply his good luck, and all sorts of replies have been made. The writer recently had a conversation with a one-time prominent republican congressman of this state, and the question as to the presidential candidates of the republican party came up, and he told a story about Grant that may be some aid to those who desire an answer to the query mentioned above

He named the condition that his name should not be given, as he is out of politics and the writer knows him to be a man of great reserve, and to entertain great dislike to public notoriety Said the gentleman

"If people think that Grant is indifferent to the nomination, they are greatly mistaken I will tell you a conversation I once had with him, but I don't wish it published, as some might think that I am committing a breach of honor in repeating a private conversation, It was about the time that Grant's name was first mentioned as an available candidate for the presidency. I was on a train going to Washington, being a member of the house at that time. Grant got on the train at Harrisburg and we rode on to Washington together Well, I wanted to hear some expression from him about his candidacy, and he replied that he had some doubts about his being able to get the nomination, I then in order to draw him out, reminded him of Zachary Taylor at Corpus Christi How he had happened to be in command there at the first outbreak of Mexican marauders, that terminated in the Mexican war, and how from pure accident and the exigencies of that war had made a simple border colonel president of the United States; and I added that it was more frequently the smallest things that made men great than the pursuit of a well defined ambition. He sat musing for a time after telling him this story, and then turning around to me, said

"'I'll tell you, H—— there's something in that, and I can tell you of a smaller circumstance than Taylor's. When I was a boy living in Georgetown, my mother ran out of butter one morning, and needing some before it could be had at the store, she sent me over to the next door neighbor's to borrow some Well, I was just as well acquainted there as I was at home, almost and opened the door and went in without knocking and just as I went in one of the folks the old gentleman, I believe, was reading a letter from a son who was in West Point Well I didn't want to disturb them while they were reading the letter, and stood there and heard what was read Well, the son said in his letter that he had been found—that is he had failed to pass examination, and he would have to come home and he had sent the letter one mail ahead so that the surprise at his return might not be so great. Well, when they got through I borrowed the butter and took it home and then rushed down to Thomas L Hamar's office—he was our congressman then—and asked him if he wouldn't send me to West Point He told me that he couldn't send me until the other boy got through and that wouldn't be for three years yet. 'But Hamar' said I, 'suppose this boy should fail to pass examination, and should be sent home will you send me then?'

"'Well, Uly,' said he 'I guess if he can't pass there'd be no use of your trying it'

"'But I want you to promise that you will send me,' said I

"'All right' said he 'if he can't get through I promise to let you try it'

"'Well during the day Hamar heard about the other fellow and the next day I went and asked if he had heard the news He said he had and after laughing a time for the way I had got him to make the promise he said it was all right I should go Well I went, and because my mother happened to be out of butter made me general of the army of the United States, and I don't know after all, but what it may make me president'"

The Protection of San Francisco Harbor

At the quarterly meeting of the chamber of commerce this afternoon a letter from Lieut Col McArthur ordnance officer at Benicia was read calling attention to the necessity of protecting San Francisco harbor, and particularly to the need of heavy rifled guns for its defense The chamber adopted a memorial to congress asking that forty or fifty heavy rifles be placed in position at the seaward approaches of the city, and that at least two turreted ironclads armed with similar ordnance be maintained in efficient condition here The chamber also adopted a memorial strongly opposing the proposition to abolish the letter carrying service of Wells Fargo & Co

OREGON PIONEERS' ASSOCIATION.

Call for the Eighth Annual Re-union to Meet in this City June 15th

RECORDING SECRETARY'S OFFICE
SALEM, April 17, 1880

MR EDITOR—The eighth annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association will be held this year at the city of Portland June 15 1880 it being the thirty-fourth anniversary of the signing of the treaty settling the boundary between the two great powers, the United States and Great Britain That act relieved the American settlers of Oregon of the uncertainties that had for so long a time been a source of great uneasiness in regard to their status whether they would be compelled to live under an English flag or have the pleasure of residing where the stars and stripes that they loved so well should be the emblem of their native republican government. But the signing of the treaty on June 15 1846 by the ministers of the two high contracting powers settling forever that Oregon should be a portion of the United States was hailed with joy by the citizens of Oregon who had staked their all and braved every danger in traversing the plains and crossing the rugged mountains or sailed through distant oceans to introduce civilization and make homes on the shores of the great Pacific and to lay the foundation of the sundown state of the union

A few years ago it became manifest to a number of pioneers that it would be of great benefit to the people of Oregon and especially to the historian, to organize an association with one of its objects as set forth in their constitution, "to collect from living witnesses such facts relating to the pioneers and history of the territory of Oregon as the association may deem worthy of preservation, and to promote social intercourse among its members This laudable object is being carried out in spirit as well as to the letter, and even now, at this early day of the association's existence a great amount of valuable history has been collated and placed in permanent form in the annual publications of the association, thus rescuing from oblivion that which is daily growing more difficult to garner, as the hardy, bold and enterprising men who took an active part in affairs when Oregon was new are rapidly passing away, and many carry to their tombs recollections of incidents that may seem trivial in themselves but make important factors toward a complete history

The association has always been ready and is now anxious to receive contributions from all who may desire to give sketches of adventures biographies of all deceased pioneers or autobiographies of the living—both male and female

The founders of the association having a just appreciation of the benignly influence of woman for the good of man, thus greatly assisting in removing the asperities of frontier life, they were cordially invited to become members of the association

The reunions have been a source of great profit to all who have arrived in Oregon of late years as well as of pleasure to those who are eligible to become members. To the former class it affords an opportunity to see many of the old men and women who have become more or less noted as pioneers and listen to their accounts of incidents both grave and gay of days long gone by as they are related around the camp fire To listen to the addresses replete with valuable historical facts which cannot be obtained in any other way To see the men who rocked the cradle of Oregon in its infancy of provisional government guided its sturdy youth as a territory and looked with parental pride when it was fully developed and admitted as a state of the union To members it brings them face to face with those whom they most probably have not met for years and affords an opportunity to talk over old times to refresh the memory of those departed and ascertain the welfare of the living it affords an opportunity for social gathering which is beneficial to all [illegible] being the case it is [illegible] that all [illegible] and their [illegible] will make an extra effort to attend [illegible] Oregon's day [illegible]

That day was chosen for several reasons but the greatest [illegible] mentioned above the final settlement of the Oregon question [illegible] the year when there is [illegible] at any other time it being between seeding and harvest And certainly we [illegible] one day from the toil of life from the farm and workshop [illegible] factory We as a people do not have a sufficient number of holidays but [illegible]

THE DELEGATION TO CHICAGO

The Salem Statesman of yesterday contains the following article We republish it this morning for the purpose of calling the special attention of the delegates to the state convention to its plain and forcible statements and for the purpose of adding all possible emphasis to the demand that a delegation shall be sent to Chicago who will rightly represent the republicans of the state and on no account vote for the ex president

Rumors have been current everywhere during the past few days that there is to be a strong effort made at the coming republican state convention to secure a delegation in the interest of Gen Grant for the national convention Those who know the current of the republican sentiment in this state, know that the ex president has no support and they are loth to believe that any such attempt will be seriously made In this, they simply show their ignorance of the depravity of the modern American politician In spite of the fact there is no Grant sentiment in Oregon we find that in a recent interview Frank Pixley's particular friend it de Black and Jeff Gorham has had assurance enough to claim that Grant was the choice of the republicans of this state, and would secure its delegation We have a right to know where he derived that information and upon what foundation his assumptions rest Published interviews held with republicans in every section of this state and the informal expressions of preference given to every republican county convention before whom the matter has been presented show that James G Blaine is the enthusiastic choice of at least four fifths of the republicans of Oregon How is it proposed to stifle that expression? By what legitimate means can a Grant delegation be secured? This is by no means the least important of the questions to be considered by the state convention at the coming meeting One plan will doubtless be to defeat propositions to instruct for Blaine Ordinarily we believe it preferable to send an uninstructed delegation but if instructions are necessary in order to secure a proper expression of the will of the people or to defeat an organized attempt to override their wishes then we insist that delegates to the state convention should use every means in their power to see that the sentiment of the state is fairly represented in Chicago Let every man whose name is presented for delegate be sounded. Let us send such men so far as it is possible as will attend the national convention in person and let it be understood that if any delegate is unable to go his proxy shall be the property of the whole delegation to be cast as they shall instruct

The managers of the Grant movement in New York and Pennsylvania have their feeble imitators on the Pacific coast and if they can force their plans and secure a Grant delegation to represent a state in which there is no Grant sentiment to back it they will leave no stone unturned to secure that end. Oregon's three electoral votes saved us the presidency Oregon's six votes in the national convention may determine the question as to whether James G Blaine the undoubted choice of the republican masses of the United States shall be our next president or not Let the state convention look to it that those six votes are cast in accordance with the wishes of the republicans of this state

The Anti-Grant Movement.

NEW YORK April 5—The anti Grant men of this city claim to be making great headway in organizing their opposition Two weeks ago suitable places were designated in each one of the twenty four assembly districts and republicans who were opposed to the third term were invited to come there and enroll their names The number of names enrolled is said to be more than five thousand The leaders say there is the best material in this enrollment and many experienced political workers have joined the ranks The name given to the new organization is the Republican Central Campaign club It is believed by the influential men in the new movement that the anti third term republicans will organize at once throughout the state and that before the national convention meets at least ten thousand republicans in this city and more than that number in the country counties will be thoroughly organized and ready to do effective work against the nomination of Grant It is likely that the new organization will send representatives to the St Louis convention but no decision in that matter can be made until the central committee is organized A strong delegation composed of members of this organization and influential republicans from other parts of the state will surely go to the Chicago convention They confidently expect to be able to convince the republicans from other states that Gen Grant cannot carry the state of New York

GROUND BROKEN

SILVERTON'S GREATEST DAY

Details of the Commencement of the New Narrow Gauge—Addresses by R C Geer J B Montgomery and Others

LARGE ATTENDANCE AND ENTHUSIASM

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE [illegible]

April 19th will be a red letter day in the history of the [illegible] community whose homes are nestled in one of the most beautiful spots in Oregon The official announcement that the Oregon Railway Company had selected Silverton as the point at which to commence the proposed enterprise created around it the greatest enthusiasm hitherto unknown Those who had retarded railroad building by declining to aid seemed scarcely less enthusiastic than those who had given money and time and [illegible] to secure the highway of commerce

Governor and Mrs W W Thayer, Gen J B Montgomery contractor for building the road Mr [illegible] Hughes attorney for the O R Co Mr M Van Harlingen who recently arrived from Philadelphia and will superintend the construction of the road and a representative of THE OREGONIAN left Portland on the morning train and were met at Gervais by a coach and four The splendid team decorated with flags was skillfully handled by M A Cavanagh and carried the party to their destination over 13 miles of reasonably bad road in 2 hours and 10 minutes As the coach passed through Parkersville the school children who had assembled on the bridges cheered loudly A little farther on a gray haired pioneer whose name I could not learn appeared on his porch swinging his hat and shouting Hurrah for the railroad company

At Brushy Neck schoolhouse the children were drawn in line at the side of the road and cheered the passengers The ride through Howell's prairie whose fields had donned their first covering of delicate green was delightful About a mile from Silverton and just as the rain began to descend in torrents the party was met by the citizens' committee with the Silverton cornet band and an escort of forty men on horseback As they entered the town loud cheers went up on every side Notwithstanding the rain not less than twelve hundred persons had gathered on the streets. From a flagstaff in front of the park floated the old orange flag of Scotland and above it the stars and stripes An anvil placed on a gentle sloping hill sent forth its thunders of welcome which were re echoed by the surrounding amphitheater of Waldo hills The party was driven to the hotel where an excellent dinner was served A procession was then formed under the marshalship of Messrs F McClaine, Eliza Blackerby M Small and Thos Cannon and marched to the head of Water street where a stand had been erected Hon R S Rimsby presided and introduced Hon Ralph C Geer who spoke in substance as follows

Mr President Ladies and Gentlemen This is the most important occasion that has ever called us together at Silverton save one since the country has been settled that was when that old starred banner—emblem of the best government the world ever saw—was in danger

We have met here for the purpose of breaking ground for the narrow gauge railroad of the Oregon Railway company limited that we have been so anxiously looking and waiting for to connect us with tide or deep water at ship navigation We (and when I say we I mean the people) have waited long and anxiously for this day We have tried to persuade railroad men to help us build a road from here to Salem but could receive no encouragement and when Mr Pengra undertook to build a railroad from Springfield via Waldo hills and Silverton to East Portland we responded with alacrity and had hopes that the day of deliverance was not far off But Pengra failed in his undertaking and our hopes of deliverance fell as far below zero as they had been raised above and parties along the broad gauge road were so jubilant over our failure that they dubbed one of the most prominent and influential citizens of this country who had taken an active part in raising subscriptions for the road, "Pengra's mule" We had been so badly disappointed in the failure of Pengra's enterprise and also by other parties who offered to build a short road from Silverton and the Hills to Salem that when on the 1st day of December last William Reid told Col Geer that if we would subscribe a certain amount he and his associates would build a narrow gauge railroad from Scio in Linn county, via Stayton Sublimity and Silverton to West Portland but few would or could believe it they said it was too good to be true but by degrees the enterprise has been worked up to its present status The plans of the Oregon Railway Co (limited) if consummated will do more for the people of Oregon than any enterprise that was ever undertaken on this coast and we hope it will be remunerative to the company and we have good reason for so hoping

Then we will be enabled to produce twice as much of nearly all kinds of produce as we do now and ten times as much of some Then we can and will utilize all our magnificent water power in manufacturing our wheat wool and timber into flour fabrics lumber and furniture to be hauled to market by the iron horse That same horse will haul one million bushels of the finest wheat in the world past Silverton on down to Portland there to be transferred direct from the cars to vessels in waiting to be wafted on the seas to feed the hungry millions of Europe and Asia. When Portland shall have one hundred thousand inhabitants which is in the near future, for she is destined to be the city of the northwest—croakers to the contrary notwithstanding we will be able to send our products to that market at all times regardless of rain or mud and thousands of products that are now wasted can then be saved As we are now situated we are compelled to spend nearly as much time and money in marketing our products as in producing them This road will bring all of us who live on the line or east of it from 12 to 16 miles nearer market thus saving time and money wear and tear of horses wagons and harness and any amount of exposure of our persons to the inclemency of the weather thus adding health wealth and comfort Then there will not be so much difference as now in the price of what we sell and buy

The speaker then recounted the advantages accruing from railroads from an esthetic standpoint and drew a lively picture of the pleasures in store for the people around him He closed with the following

May the company prosecute this enterprise to completion and reap abundant success and so manage the same that we will never feel our subscriptions weighing us down like a millstone around our necks but that our children and our children's children will have no cause to regret the day their fathers and grandfathers subsidized the narrow gauge railroad of the Oregon Railway Company limited to pass through Silverton and the Waldo hills

Mr J B Montgomery, who was in the crowd then said

Mr President Ladies and Gentlemen—[illegible] Oregon has honored me [illegible] to [illegible] in inaugurating the proceedings [illegible] Mrs Thayer will throw the first shovelful of earth in the building of the Oregon Railway and I will be responsible for the completion of it [illegible]

Mrs Thayer then walked to the spot indicated by J M Shaw engineer in charge of construction and J H Quinton engineer in charge of location and turned the first ground amid tumultuous cheering A few plows and twenty scrapers were immediately put to work the horses having been furnished by [illegible]

Mrs Thayer [illegible] by Mr Montgomery then came to the stand and the latter handing the shovel to Miss Eva Coolidge said

Miss Coolidge I present you the shovel with [illegible] earth of this railway Keep it as a memento of what I hope will prove the most important event in the history of Silverton

[illegible] made for Mr Montgomery [illegible]

[illegible] rather than words [illegible] this railway [illegible] I have [illegible] because the people [illegible] district gave such [illegible] Silverton has [illegible] I desire that [illegible] know who want railroads and the [illegible] to build railroads in new countries of necessity [illegible] large immediate returns and the investment [illegible] they will benefit [illegible] sate for capital which must be unprofitably invested for the first few years You must first put your shoulder to the wheel and then call for Hercules This you have done This road will be built speedily and I [illegible] you that [illegible] have cars running from here [illegible] O & C R R by the 4th of July [illegible] I have nothing more to say except to introduce [illegible] excellency Gov Thayer whom I am sure we are all delighted to see here to-day

The governor excused himself from making an elaborate speech as he had come entirely unprepared He spoke of the [illegible] future [illegible] the resources of the state He paid a high tribute to the enterprise and industry of Oregon pioneers and expressed the hope that with the aid of railroads Oregon will soon be the brightest star in the galaxy of states

Miss Eva Coolidge then read the following address on commerce

Trace for a moment the history of commerce from an early period In the infancy of the world its caravans like gigantic silk worms went creeping through the dry wastes of Asia and Africa and [illegible] the human family together in those vast [illegible] the [illegible] America [illegible] the several nations

[illegible] the world [illegible] which all [illegible] of the earth and of the ocean of the soil [illegible] the universal market of demand and supply

No matter in what region the desirable product is bestowed on man [illegible] providence or fabricated by [illegible] skill It may be the hills of China with the fragrant foliage [illegible] the [illegible] It may spring forth from the flying shuttles of Manchester in England or [illegible] in America the great world magnet [illegible] attracts it all alike and gathers it [illegible] I speak of commerce in the aggregate—the great ebbing and flowing tides of the commercial world—the great gulf streams of traffic which flow around from hemisphere to hemisphere, the mighty trade winds of commerce which sweep from the old world to the new that vast aggregated system which embraces the whole family of man and brings the overflowing [illegible] into kindly relation with human wants [illegible]

In carrying on this system think for a moment of the stupendous agencies that are put in motion Think for a moment of all the cars that now run over the land and of all the ships that navigate the sea How many thousands of vessels laden by commerce are at this moment navigating not the narrow seas frequented by the ancients but the deep wide oceans. Think next of the mountains of brick and stone and iron built up into the great commercial cities of the world; and of all the mighty works of ancient and modern contrivance and structure the light houses, the bridges the canals the railways the depth of mines the delving plow, the reapers the electric telegraphs the vehicles of all descriptions which directly or indirectly are employed or put in motion by commerce And last and most important, the millions of human beings that conduct and regulate and combine these inanimate organs and mechanical forces. The whole world is in motion before us All is action and all is labor Such is the life of the merchant the mechanic and the man of business but all comprehended under the general name of commerce all concerned in weaving the mighty network of mutually beneficial exchanges which enwrap the world

Short enthusiastic speeches were then made by Hon R S Ramsby and D H Stearns The meeting closed with three rousing cheers for Mr Montgomery

The exact point of the beginning of the railroad is at the junction of Water street and the Salem road and it takes a northwesterly direction through the field of James Brown It will cross the O & C R R either at Woodburn or Gervais

[From the New York Star]

Gould works as hard as though his life depended on his exertions There seems to be no rest with him since wherever he may go he takes his cares and labors with him His new telegraph line is a great enterprise and requires much attention to insure success Gould is now accumulating wealth more rapidly than any man in the city (and probably in America) excepting Wm H Vanderbilt His income is estimated at $2000 per day Twenty years ago he was jobbing sole leather and had a tannery in the Pennsylvania woods the place being called Gouldsborough after its proprietor Who could then have predicted his wonderful success? Such immense wealth however does not make a man any happier as Gould no doubt has learnedly experienced

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Wise action in the convention which meets to day will afford the most positive assurance of republican triumph in June and will go far towards carrying the electoral vote of the state in November. What we mean by wise action will not so much depend on selection of this man or that for nomination although judgment in such selections is necessary as on the spirit evinced in making the selections and the manifest purposes with which this or that object may be urged. They who make a trade of politics for official position or any form of gain mistake if they suppose their objects are not well understood, and dictation from such sources is always received as a thing out of place and moreover is apt to offend. Nearly all the dissensions that arise in parties come from the persistence of those who have special ends to attain and from the opposition which such a course almost naturally begets. Large numbers who in sentiment and principle are republicans are nevertheless very independent and while the party may command their allegiance on great questions, for the reason that their opinions are antecedent to the formation of party to support them, nevertheless their allegiance is not at the command of those who are manifestly scheming for their own ends and whose only conception of the function of party is that of a machine or instrument to be employed for the behoof of those who may organize and combine to control and use it. The republican party will endure little coercion or strain of this kind. It is formed to a greater extent on purely voluntary association than any other party. This has been called its weakness but it is at the same time the great source of its strength. Through it there is furnished a principle of recovery which enables it to correct errors before they become so great that utter overthrow is the consequence. The republican party when it acts on the broad principle of toleration and fairness is invincible. It recovers at once from any temporary reverse and renews a vigorous life. But when it makes the mistake of narrowing its basis and of treating every departure from strict party regularity as an unpardonable offense, it has little promise of victory. Men who want nothing else in politics do want fair action and courteous treatment, and in this which costs nothing there is often more strength than in the most elaborate platform constructed to-day and forgotten to morrow. Hence we repeat what was said above that much depends on the spirit with which the convention does its work. If this is satisfactory there is little reason to fear the rest. A successful issue depends on burying old dissensions instead of reviving and perpetuating them through fear that somebody may get an advantage over somebody else. The masses who vote for republican candidates because they want to maintain the principles of the republican party want nothing to do with squabbles over questions of preferment and of office, and they who insist on this or that nomination, on the ground that "control of patronage" depends on it, make use of an argument for which most people have little respect. The more free a party is from control of motives of this kind, the better for it. Hence the good results which followed the so-called civil service order of President Hayes, wherever it was enforced. We may repeat what was said in these columns several days ago, that the republican party in Oregon has been sacrificed repeatedly because it was made too narrow and exclusive. Better that there should be no repetition of this mistake.

PLAIN HERESIES.

There is nothing in the constitution forbidding any constitutional Bourbon to make a fool of himself, either in season or out of season. This is fortunate perhaps, for otherwise the infractions of the constitution would be too frequent to be enumerated, and the further consequence would be either that this revered instrument would soon be brought into general contempt, or there would be more offenders to be dealt with than ever were known in any country under the sun. The moss backed politician of the demo-confederate stamp will never cease to revere the principle on which the unfortunate southern confederacy was founded. He is so indoctrinated with it that fire could never melt it out of him—that is, not in this world. It makes no difference to those who adhere to the doctrine of state sovereignty and who proclaim that we are not a nation but a confederacy, that this same question has been submitted to the trial of arms, with a result decidedly adverse to the confederates. To them it is just the same as if there had been no Gettysburg and no Appomattox. So Gov Thayer takes occasion in his letter to Judge Deady on the Ah Lee case to travel far enough out of his way to deny the nationality of the United States and to call this supreme fact a "heresy" and his organ declares that the governor does not propose to allow foreign jurisdiction to interfere in the reserved rights of the sovereign state of Oregon." This idea of treating the jurisdiction of the United States as foreign to the sovereign state of Oregon is conceived in the true spirit of the state supremacy and confederate school of politics. It may be that Gov Thayer and his organ will cannonize Ah Lee for the reason that his life and death have given opportunity for one more shriek in behalf of a great and revered though unfortunate principle, over which his excellency and the organ grinder are still mounting guard right at the place where the ark of the covenant was abandoned by the confederate chief in 1865 in his flight before the bayonets which were backing up the "heresy" of the nationality of the United States. In the demo confederate mind there are peculiar notions about heresies. Recently one of the delegates to the state democratic convention published a letter in THE OREGONIAN denouncing Judge McArthur's claim that gold and silver are the only actual money as a "heresy" and now Gov Thayer finds another "heresy" in the claim that the United States is a nation. What is there in the creed of this party so solid and substantial as against these heresies of nationality and hard money? Only visions of exploded confederate theories and dreams of paper mill and printing press fiat currency. We have these then as the solid facts of our political and economic system while Appomattox and gold bullion are only barren idealities—otherwise called "heresies" in the customary language of constitutional Bourbonism.

THE PROPOSED MINING LAW

In speaking the other day of the parts of the proposed general land law prepared by the commission which has recently been employed in revising the land laws of the United States we referred to the radical changes suggested in the laws relating to mining claims which are not desirable for the mining regions of the Pacific slope. The new act proposes to set aside the local laws of mining districts and to establish the principle that claims shall rest on regular surface and vertical lines, that is that the surface tract claimed shall carry the title only to what is directly below it. The Salt Lake Tribune says that this suggestion comes from examination of the mines of Leadville, and is based on the peculiarities observed at the mines of Leadville. Now this is a subject in which our state in common with others on the Pacific slope has much interest. It is likely that we shall have an important development of mining industry in this state ... an excellent beginning has passed ... sie already. The present mining law provides we believe that the maximum area of a claim on a vein ... to which all locators are entitled ... feet in length with ... with. This area is open to restriction under the local laws of the mining districts, whatever width the miners in the various districts may decide upon, coupled with the right, fixed by the law, the vein itself which may be followed on its dip beyond the side lines of the claim to any extent. Miners familiar with deep mines ... be fatal to ... the claim ... and if explorers of mines are to ... the side lines as the ... which congress provides the ... result will be disastrous to the mining interest. The proposed law may suit the horizontal strata and contact veins of Leadville and vicinity which at present appear to occupy the attention of eastern legislators and capitalists but it would not be at all satisfactory on the Pacific slope. If Leadville wants a special mining law for an exceptional mining formation the miners west of the Rocky mountains can have no objection to such legislation. Let the laws regulating the sale of coal lands apply to the carbonate regions and sell the same by the acre or square mile. But let alone the deep mines of this western country. The energetic men who work them are content to take their chances under the provisions of the present law.

A QUESTION IN YALE

A new controversy with an ancient flavor has arisen in Yale college. It appears from a history of the case as stated by a New York journal that Professor Sumner who occupies the chair of political and social science has been using Herbert Spencer's work entitled "A Study of Sociology" as a text book. To the systematic study of sociology Mr Spencer has brought a mind of rare power and subtlety and devoted more time to the collection and classification of material than any writer ancient or modern. The book in question however is objected to by President Porter and the more conservative members of the faculty as unorthodox in its tendency if not in its specific expressions. Professor Sumner has been requested by these worthy conservatives to discontinue its use and he has declined to comply with the request saying that if he be deprived of it he will resign his chair. Upon this issue the trustees of the college will shortly be required to pass. It appears that the president and the joint faculty are alike powerless to restrict any professor in the choice of his text books. In the meantime the discussion will be accepted by many persons as proving that Mr Spencer affirms—that the theological bias, and the determination to make dogmas regulating forces in strictly scientific inquiries have all along retarded the advance of science. The number of people who cannot see why there should be a theological social science, any more than a theological chemistry or astronomy or geology increases rapidly and the attempt to exclude untrammeled investigation from one domain of physical life and vital conditions, after it has been secured in nearly all others, will look very much like the folly over again of King Canute with his "thus far and no farther." To the perfectly impartial onlooker there does not seem to be much difference between a theology that condemned the Copernican system and one that is disturbed by the doctrine of evolution as a fundamental explanation of social phenomena. Most people had supposed that the world had got on beyond the old stumbling blocks found in a system which first sets up theological formulas and then requires the facts of science to conform to them. But it seems not yet.

The first great drop in iron which has been booming at an unnatural rate for nearly a year past, has occurred in Philadelphia from whence comes the announcement that the Glendon company have issued a circular making a reduction of $10 per ton in their iron. All through the iron producing district of Pennsylvania a condition of extreme dullness is reported among the manufacturers the result of the fictitious values set upon the product since the boom began, and a general reduction is looked upon as necessary in order to revive the demand and shut out foreign competition.

Peter Cooper concludes he has been in politics long enough, and as he is now nearly ninety years of age he has entirely withdrawn from all active participation in the politics of the day. Hereafter he will content himself with merely expressing his opinions on national subjects in his pamphlets and anybody is welcome to these. There are a good many young men not anywhere near Mr Cooper's age who do not know enough to know when they ought to retire from politics.

Most of the delegates to the state republican convention had arrived in the city last evening. It did not require any sounding at all to discover that the convention is overwhelmingly for Blaine. Many, however think that Washburne would be a strong compromise candidate should any dark horse be found necessary. There is practical unanimity against the third term proposition, and it is not unlikely a resolution to that effect will be introduced and adopted.

The Astorian notes that the steamship Oregon after crossing the bar had to wait several hours for the tide before she could reach Astoria. If the river is shoaling between Astoria and the sea the fact should receive prompt attention and there should be no delay in securing the means to deepen the channel. Such a work would be entirely practicable one and the commerce of the whole country tributary to the Columbia river has an interest in getting it done.

CITY.

Man Run Over.—While the south bound express was nearing Canby station Monday evening the engineer discovered a man lying on the track. It was getting dark at the time and the train was on a down grade when the engineer's sharp eye made the unwelcome discovery. He whistled down brakes with a vengeance, but before the train could be brought to a halt, the locomotive drivers struck the prostrate form of the man. The train was backed up and the man picked up and placed on board. He was lying on the left side of the track parallel with it and a portion of his body on the rail. It was ascertained that the unfortunate man was named Edward Ward, who was about 50 years of age and lived alone in a little cabin not far from the scene. In a short time Dr. Knight was on hand and made a careful examination. It was ascertained that Ward had received a terrible gash over the left eye and across the forehead, from which the blood flowed freely; his left arm was crushed near the elbow and his right heel smashed out of shape, besides other smaller cuts and bruises. Dr. Knight dressed the wounds in a skillful manner and made the fellow as comfortable as possible for the night. Ward was brought down on the morning train and conveyed to St. Vincent's Hospital. Last evening Ward was resting quite comfortably. His injuries are not considered necessarily fatal, but it is thought that his right foot will have to be amputated.

O. and W. F. F. Company.—The stockholders of the Oregon and Washington Fish Propagating Company held an adjourned meeting last night in the board of trade rooms. The attendance was very small. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the transaction of some little routine business, the stockholders proceeded to the election of a board of directors to serve for the next three years. The following gentlemen were elected: J. W. Cooke, John Harlow, J. G. Megler, W. Jackson, M. S. Farrell. The newly chosen directors then resolved themselves into a body and elected the following officers: J. W. Cooke, president; John Harlow, vice president; First National Bank, treasurer; C. A. Freeman, secretary. There being no other business the meeting adjourned.

Nuptials.—The Walla Walla Union of the 17th says: "Last Thursday evening the residence on Catherine street of Major J. B. Keefer, paymaster U. S. A., was filled with beauty and fashion of the town, drawn together by the marriage of his daughter Edith M. Keefer to M. Harry Paxton, paymaster's clerk. A beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Boyd, after which the guests spent a delightful hour in congratulating the bride and groom, examining the many elegant and costly presents made to the devoted couple, and partaking of a very sumptuous and well appointed wedding luncheon."

Crystal Wedding.—Monday evening the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wyatt gave them a very pleasant surprise at their home on Sixth street. It being the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding, they had been talking over with each other the past and watching over a little boy sick with the measles, but now, happily, recovering, when the door bell rang, and a number of ladies and gentlemen, each bearing some crystal token of remembrance and friendship, which was received with pleasant words and kindly greeting to the donors. The guests then joined in a few hours of social intercourse and cheerful amusements.

Insane Patient.—George Willis arrived here a few days ago from Coos county, having in charge an insane man named Thomas F. Stillwell. His insanity is of the violent type, and he has attempted his own life and that of his father and other persons. A few days since he placed the muzzle of a gun to his breast and discharged it, but the bullet only slightly touched his body, inflicting a flesh wound. He has taken poison enough to kill half a dozen men.

A Social Evening.—Last evening there was a literary and press reunion at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Duniway. It was largely attended, and the occasion was a very pleasant one. There was music, social intercourse, some pleasant speeches, supper and altogether a very enjoyable time. The company included many persons of social and literary prominence in Portland and quite a number from distant places.

Fire.—Yesterday morning at 2:16 a fire broke out in the dwelling of Bridge Gallagher, on Second street, near Yamhill, and entirely consumed the dwelling and contents, except a portion of the front of the dwelling. The property was insured in the Home Mutual for $5000, which will nearly cover the loss.

Building Destroyed.—The dwelling house of Mr. J. S. Ross, in Astoria, took fire Monday night and was destroyed, together with most of the contents. The estimated loss and insurance are not known.

Photograph of the Bethel.—The Oregonian acknowledges with thanks the receipt from Chaplain Stubbs of a very neat photograph of the Portland Seamen's Bethel.

At Eleven O'Clock.—The convention will assemble at eleven o'clock to-day at Turn Halle, corner of Fourth and Yamhill streets.

SOCIABLE.

This (Wednesday) evening the young ladies of the Taylor street church will hold an interesting sociable in the parlors of the church in aid of the fund for the purchase of a new organ. A most delicate bill of fare will be provided by the committee having charge of the culinary department, and as the Alpha Literary society has accepted the management of the literary and musical programme and underlined its best talent for the occasion, those who attend will spend a most agreeable evening. We annex the programme:

1—Solo.........Miss Le Anderson
2—Reading.........Mr. G. Hill
3—Duet.........The Misses Dickenson
4—Recitation.........Mr. A. E. MacCulsky
5—Solo.........Miss L. Anderson
6—Declamation.........Miss Fleescham
7—Ballad.........Mr. John Gill

PERSONAL.

Tom Merry of the Dalles Inland Empire, who says nothing that he does not say well, says the following high compliment to Col. Effinger of this city: "The selection of Col. W. H. Effinger as delegate to the national democratic convention was eminently fit and proper. Aside from deep legal research and oratorical gifts of the highest order, he is a shrewd observer and a fine judge of human character. Eight years of residence in this state have enabled him to scrutinize the people of Oregon closely and become thoroughly acquainted with their needs. Knowing this, we are confident he will represent us fairly at Cincinnati and confer honor upon the far-off state which is proud to rank so gifted a gentleman among her accepted sons."

THE EXECUTION OF AH LEE.

He Proclaimed Innocence to the Last.

Attempt at Suicide in his Cell—The Consolations of Religion Refused—Details of the Hanging.

More than a year ago a Christian Chinaman was killed in the Joss house on Second street in this city under circumstances peculiarly cruel and atrocious. While a spectator upon the religious ceremonies of his people, a privilege allowed to all, he was assaulted by two Chinamen, either physically his superior, one armed with a hatchet and the other with a pistol, and literally hacked and riddled. The affray attracted the police who rescued the boy, senseless, bleeding, and apparently dead. He lived a day or two, consciousness in the meantime returning, and recognized his murderers who were brought before him for identification. Pointing to Charley Lee Quong, he said, "He shot me," and to Ah Lee, "He cut me." Although circumstances strongly corroborated this certain testimony, justice was delayed upon various pretexts, and in a measure cheated, Lee Quong escaping with a life sentence. Ah Lee was tried twice, both times convicted, and yesterday paid the penalty of his crime upon the gallows.

Ah Lee passed the night preceding yesterday in the agony of anticipation, understanding fully the hopelessness of his situation. Once he attempted suicide, evincing great cunning in his preparations, and he would undoubtedly have succeeded but for the constant scrutiny of two guards who stood sentinel in his cell. The jailer several times suggested to the doomed man that he would call in the attendance of a Chinese priest or other minister, but these offers were rudely refused. He refused to eat, but when the hour of execution approached dressed with care and good taste, giving himself an almost jaunty air by covering his head with a fanciful turban of red silk.

Shortly after 11 o'clock he was taken to the scaffold in the court house yard, where a large crowd had assembled, both inside and out of the inclosure. Though suffering intensely from emotion he walked up the steps with slight assistance, and after sitting during the reading of the death warrant, was able to rise and talk calmly when the sheriff told him that he might speak. His remarks, as interpreted, were that he was satisfied to die. Two white men, he said, had been hanged for the crime of which he was charged, and so he did not feel that he was persecuted because he was a Chinaman. He declared that he was innocent of the murder, gave some good advice to the interpreter, then raising his voice and speaking in broken English, said: "All good Melican men, good-bye—good-bye." The black cap was then properly adjusted, his legs strapped together, and at 11:22 the drop fell. He fell five feet, but his neck was not broken, and in a few seconds he began to struggle, twisting his manacled hands and bending his knees. This struggling was continued for more than a minute. After he had hung four minutes a quiver which shook every muscle passed through his body. Except occasional heaving of the shoulders, this was the last struggle. Drs. J. A. Chapman and W. H. Saylor then felt his pulse. At six minutes it beat 80; at seven minutes, 30; at nine minutes, barely perceptible; at eleven minutes, no pulse; at twelve minutes, he was declared dead, and Sheriff Norden ordered A. P. DeLin to take charge of the body. After hanging five minutes longer it was cut down, and an hour later was buried at Lone Fir, followed to the grave by a large concourse of his countrymen.

THE PARTY'S REPRESENTATIVES.

The Delegates Assembling—Lively Scenes about the City—The Strong Feeling for Blaine—Grant Men Scarce—The Determination to Nominate the Best Men—Unanimity and Harmony.

More than a week ago the delegates to the republican state convention, to meet in this city to-day began to arrive, and last evening the representation from almost the entire state was on hand. No former convention of the party has been more largely attended than this promises to be, not only by the delegates chosen in the several counties in person, but by the leading republicans from all parts of the state. The Holton House, the Clarendon, St. Charles, Occidental and other hotels were thronged last evening with men earnestly but everywhere goodnaturedly, discussing the probabilities and expediency of the convention adopting this or that line of policy. Above and beyond all candidates for office in the state the one great object of the delegates appeared to be the establishment of the principle that was enunciated in the convention which first organized the republican party which has been reaffirmed in every national assemblage of the party since, that the preservation of the national life, the unity of the republic and the protection of all citizens in the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty. The enthusiasm of the party was never greater than it seems to be at present, and while there is no disposition to concede a single principle to the demand of the opposition, there is evidently a strong confidence that success will follow wise action on part of the convention in its platform and nominations.

PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCES.

Representatives of THE OREGONIAN yesterday afternoon and evening interviewed large numbers of delegates and representative republicans as they were gathered at the hotels as to their preference for president, and the result is that a proportion of about ten to one are for Blaine, and about seven to one are in favor of instructing the delegates to the national convention to cast their votes for him. With regard to a third term for Gen. Grant fully five-sixths of those interviewed expressed themselves as opposed to his renomination and fully one-half were in favor of passing a resolution to that effect in the convention to-day. However, nearly every one opposed to Grant's renomination, on the ground that it would have a tendency to weaken the ticket, promised him their hearty support if the Chicago convention saw fit to place him again at the head of the ticket in the coming campaign.

CONGRESSMAN.

Upon the question of the selection of a candidate for congress no special interviews were had, but from general conversations upon the subject among the delegates, there is probably no one of the prominent candidates who will have a majority on the first ballot. The gentlemen most generally talked of are Messrs. Mallory and George, while Gen. Odell will start in with considerable strength. From the talk of most of the delegates, if it can be shown that any man can make a more effective fight and poll a larger vote than any other, that man will be likely to be the nominee. Among all there is a set feeling that personal ambitions, local prejudices and factional opposition must be put aside, and the foundation laid for harmony, and shoulder to shoulder work in the coming canvass.

SUPREME JUDGES.

For the important positions of justices of the supreme court there are quite a number of aspirants, and as all of those named are men of ability and high standing as lawyers, the choice is likely to fall on good men for the place, fall where it may. Among those most strongly supported are Hon. W. Lair Hill, of Wasco, J. B. Waldo, Esq., of Multnomah, Hon. R. P. Boise, of Polk, Col. Kelsay, of Benton, and Hon. E. B. Watson, of Jackson Co.

DISTRICT OFFICERS.

The several district judges and prosecuting attorneys will be selected with reference to their ability to lead their party to success and to discharge the duties of the positions to which it is expected to elect them with honesty and faithfulness. There is none of the under current of dissatisfaction which prevailed in the democratic gathering at Albany recently. There is no disposition to show any determined opposition to any truly republican measure unless the nomination of Gen. Grant may be so denominated. To that there are many delegates unflinchingly opposed.

DRAINAGE.

Lecture by Dr. E. I. Bally at the Unitarian Church.

The chapel of the Unitarian church was well filled last evening to hear a lecture supplementary to the social science course just closed.

Dr. Bally understands the subject well and made many strong points. Below are some of the statements made by the Doctor. Our city authorities and taxpayers will find of interest they act upon them. If true, we must have them carried out. If not, let us know the reasons.

Hygiene is a knowledge of health, individual or community, and how to keep it.

Drainage is a part of hygiene, dealing with prevention rather than cure.

Now-a-days people do not blame Providence for every affliction, but look to their drains and back yards. A few centuries hence people will look back—and down—upon us as we do upon those of the middle ages when all Europe was unwashed. A few prisoners brought into court so contaminated the air that judge, jury and audience, to the number of 300, died in 48 hours. The ravages that fell by the London plague were few as compared with the number that would have fallen, had not the fire of 1666 burned out the worst generating places of the dread disease. The streets were full of garbage heaps, and a flat of every kind abounded everywhere.

The same conditions exist to day, though somewhat diminished.

Dr. Billings says there are annually 100,000 deaths from preventable causes. Also 100,000 sick from preventable causes. This lessens the productive efficiency of the country by 30 per cent. Conditions of insalubrity are more to be dreaded than war and pestilence. Cities are ulcers on the earth's surface. They pollute the soil. The surface of the earth is like the skin of the human body, and must give and take moisture in order to be healthy and harmless. The most prolific source of disease may be found in the moisture of the soil especially if it contains human waste. A consumption map of Massachusetts based on the degree of soil moisture, was verified in England.

Houses should be built so as to resemble the clothing of our bodies. A dry foundation means good shoes,—a point especially commended to ladies. Dry walls are dry clothes, passing air back and forth to preserve cleanliness. Walls must breathe. The skin must be clean, like the yard and grounds.

Of the two principal human dejections, 30,000 people in one year produce 26,756,325 pounds,—enough to fill a building 100 feet wide —or cover one acre 11 feet deep. Exhalations from the skin and lungs are greater than the above. Much is in clothing, and reaches the ground by way of the wash water. Add to the above the various slops and wastes from stables, meat and fish shops, etc., and the aggregate is appalling.

Observe that there is unity of the poison of typhoid, scarlet and puerperal fevers and diphtheria and that it is found in the dejections above mentioned. A common trunk has many branches, and a person has this disease or that according to hereditary or predisposing causes. Braithwaite's Retrospect Jan., 1880, p. 333.

Sewers and drains are for different purposes and must not be built together. Drains are to carry off surplus moisture and keep the water level as low as possible. Sewers are for conducting poisonous matter, and hence must be perfectly watertight and airtight. If one is built to admit water here and there, the same openings will permit the escape of the contents wherever the soil is dry. The sewer should be cylindrical or oval and be imbedded in puddled clay, which is impervious to water. The drains may be above this sand, in the gravel, admitting the soil moisture. Sewers should be of equal size throughout. In Portland they are tapered to the high end. At each enlargement the water having more surface will deposit its sediment. Portland sewers have no ventilation but traps at the street corners, and, the speaker added, the houses.

An unventilated sewer is as dangerous as a rattlesnake. Water running down a pipe is like a piston and draws everything after it. So a perpendicular pipe, closed at the top having water let into it from one floor will draw the water from all the traps on the other floors, leaving the branch pipes all open for sewer gas to return into the house. The pipe should run from the sewer to the top of the house, having no obstruction, and then the trap on each branch will be effective. This will also prevent any evil from expansion of gas in the sewer. Ventilators should be placed on sewers every 200 feet. An English town built closed sewers to prevent zymotic diseases, but found them greatly increased and carried to upper end of sewer. Ventilation of the sewer at once produced the desired effect. Sewers must breathe, and if the sewers of Portland are not better ventilated those in authority will be largely responsible for the amount of sickness and death which will inevitably be produced by the present arrangement.

Never have the same pipe furnish the water-closet and kitchen, but have two pipes from the main.

The lecture was preceded by a piano solo by Miss Villard, and followed by a song from Miss Test. All were interested, and it is believed that much good will come of Dr. Bally's lecture.

Attention! Attention! Attention!

is called to the fact that we have just received, per steamer State of California, a LARGE BANKRUPT STOCK, purchased in New York by MR. J. FRANKLIN at 60 cents on the dollar, and the way we intend to show you that what we say is so, and not merely bragging, is by giving you a Price List that will astonish you all; and if these figures are not the LOWEST in Oregon, we will stand aside and take a back seat. Competition is the life of trade, and there is so much competition in Portland that goods must be sold low to gain trade, and owing to the facilities we have in having our own wholesale house in San Francisco, at 18 and 20 Battery street, we will again state that our prices cannot be beat.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 21, 1880

CITY.

MAN RUN OVER.—While the south bound express was nearing Canby station Monday evening the engineer discovered a man lying on the track. It was getting dark at the time and the train was on a down grade when the engineer's sharp eye made the unwelcome discovery. He whistled down brakes with a vengeance but before the train could be brought to a halt the locomotive drivers struck the prostrate form of the man. The train was backed up and the man picked up and placed on board. He was lying on the left side of the track parallel with the rail, a portion of his body on the rail. It was ascertained that the unfortunate man was named Edward Ward, who was about 50 years of age and lived alone in a little cabin not far from the scene. In a short time Dr Knight was on hand and made a careful examination. It was ascertained that Ward had received a terrible gash over the left eye and across the forehead from which the blood flowed freely; his left arm was crushed near the elbow and his right heel smashed out of shape, besides other smaller cuts and bruises. Dr Knight dressed the wounds in a skillful manner and made the fellow as comfortable as possible for the night. Ward was brought down on the morning train and conveyed to St. Vincent's Hospital. Last evening Ward was resting quite comfortably. His injuries are not considered necessarily fatal, but it is thought that his right foot will have to be amputated.

O AND W F P COMPANY.—The stockholders of the Oregon and Washington Fish Propagating Company held an adjourned meeting last night in the board of trade rooms. The attendance was very small. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the transaction of some little routine business, the stockholders proceeded to the election of a board of directors to serve for the next three years. The following gentlemen were elected: J W Cooke, John Harlow, J G Megler, W Jackson, M S Farrell. The newly chosen directors then resolved themselves into a body and elected the following officers: J W Cooke president, John Harlow vice president, First National Bank treasurer, O A Freeman secretary. There being no other business the meeting adjourned.

NUPTIALS.—The Walla Walla Union of the 17th says: "Last Thursday evening the residence on Catherine street of Major F B Keefer, paymaster U S A, was filled with beauty and fashion of the town, drawn together by the marriage of his daughter Edith M Keefer to M Harry Paxton, paymaster's clerk. A beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony was performed by Rev Robert Boyd, after which the guests spent a delightful hour in congratulating the bride and groom, examining the many elegant and costly presents made to the devoted couple and partaking of a very sumptuous and well appointed wedding luncheon."

CRYSTAL WEDDING.—Monday evening the friends of Mr and Mrs. J B Wyatt gave them a very pleasant surprise at their home on Sixth street. It being the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding, they had been talking over with each other the past, and watching over a little boy sick with the measles but now, happily, recovering, when the door bell rang, and a number of ladies and gentlemen, each bearing some crystal token of remembrance and friendship, which was received with pleasant words and kindly greeting to the donors. The guests then joined in a few hours of social intercourse and cheerful amusements.

INSANE PATIENT.—George Willis arrived here a few days ago from Coos county having in charge an insane man named Thomas F Stillwell. His insanity is of the violent type, and he has attempted his own life and that of his father and other persons. A few days since he placed the muzzle of a gun to his breast and discharged it, but the bullet only slightly touched his body, inflicting a flesh wound. He has taken poison enough to kill half a dozen men.

A SOCIAL EVENING.—Last evening there was a literary and press reunion at the residence of Mr and Mrs. Duniway. It was largely attended, and the occasion was a very pleasant one. There was music, social intercourse, some pleasant speeches, supper and altogether a very enjoyable time. The company included many persons of social and literary prominence in Portland, and quite a number from distant places.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning at 2½ a fire broke out in the dwelling of Bridget Gallagher, on Second street near Yamhill and entirely consumed the dwelling and contents, except a portion of the front of the dwelling. The property was insured in the Home Mutual for $5000, which will nearly cover the loss.

BUILDING DESTROYED.—The dwelling house of Mr J S Ross in Astoria took fire Monday night and was destroyed, together with most of the contents. The estimated loss and insurance are not known.

PHOTOGRAPH OF THE BETHEL.—The Oregonian acknowledges with thanks the receipt from Chaplain Stubbs of a very neat photograph of the Portland Seamen's Bethel.

AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK.—The convention will assemble at eleven o'clock to-day at Turn Halle, corner of Fourth and Yamhill streets.

SOCIABLE.

This (Wednesday) evening the young ladies of the Taylor street church will hold an interesting sociable in the parlors of the church in aid of the fund for the purchase of a new organ. A most elaborate bill of fare will be provided by the committee having charge of the culinary department and as the Alpha Literary society has accepted the management of the literary and musical programme and underlined its best talent for the occasion, those who attend will spend a most agreeable evening. We annex the programme:

1—Solo.............. Miss Lamberson
2—Reading.............. M. C. Hill
3—Duet.............. The Misses Dickinson
4—Recitation.............. Mr A E McCalsky
5—Solo.............. Miss L. Anderson
6—Declamation.............. Miss Mearcham
7—Ballet.............. Mr John Gill

PERSONAL.

Tom Merry of the Dalles Inland Empire, who says nothing that he does not say well, pays the following high compliment to Col Effinger of this city: "The selection of Col W H. Effinger as delegate to the national democratic convention was eminently fit and proper. Aside from deep legal research and oratorical gifts of the highest order he is a shrewd observer and a fine judge of human character. Eight years of residence in this state have enabled him to scrutinize the people of Oregon closely and become thoroughly acquainted with their needs. Knowing this, we are confident he will represent us fairly at Cincinnati and confer honor upon the far-off state which is proud to rank so gifted a gentleman among her adopted sons."

THE EXECUTION OF AH LEE.

He Proclaimed Innocence to the Last.

Attempt at Suicide in his Cell—The Consolations of Religion Refused—Details of the Hanging

More than a year ago a Christian Chinaman was killed in the Joss house on Second street in this city under circumstances peculiarly cruel and atrocious. While a spectator upon the religious [illegible] the people a privilege allowed [illegible] was assaulted by two Chinamen [illegible] his superior one armed with a [illegible] and literally hacked and riddled. The [illegible] attracted the police who rescued the [illegible] senseless, bleeding and apparently dead. He lived a day or two [illegible] unconsciousness, in the meantime returning [illegible] letters which were [illegible] before him [illegible] pointing to Charley Lee Quong he said "He struck me," and to Ah Lee "He cut me." Although circumstances strongly corroborated this certain testimony justice was delayed upon various pretexts and in a measure cheated, Lee Quong escaping with a life sentence. Ah Lee was tried twice, both times convicted, and yesterday paid the penalty of his crime upon the gallows.

Ah Lee passed the night preceding yesterday in the agony of a [illegible] understanding fully the hopelessness of his situation. Once he attempted suicide evincing great cunning in his preparations and he would undoubtedly have succeeded but for the constant scrutiny of two guards who stood sentinel in his cell. The jailer several times suggested to the doomed man that he would call in the attendance of a Chinese priest or other minister but these offers were rudely refused. He refused to eat, but when the hour of execution approached dressed with care and good taste, giving himself an almost jaunty air by covering his head with a fancy [illegible] turban of [illegible].

Shortly after 11 o'clock he was taken to the scaffold in the court house yard where a large crowd had assembled both inside and out of the enclosure. [illegible] suffering intensely from emotion he walked up the steps with slight assistance and after sitting during the reading of the death warrant was able to rise and talk calmly when the sheriff told him that he might speak. His remarks as interpreted were that he was satisfied to die. Two white men he said had been hanged for the crime of which he was charged and so he did not feel that he was persecuted because he was a Chinaman. He declared that he was innocent of the murder, gave some good advice to the interpreter, then raising his voice and speaking in broken English said: "All good Melican men good bye—good bye." The black cap was then properly adjusted, his legs strapped together, and at 11:22 the drop fell. He fell five feet but his neck was not broken and in a few seconds he began to struggle, twisting his manacled hands and bending his knees. This struggling was continued for more than a minute. After he had hung four minutes a quiver which shook every muscle passed through his body. Except occasional heaving of the shoulders this was the last struggle. Drs J A Chapman and W H Saylor then felt his pulse. At six minutes it beat 80, at seven minutes, 30, at nine minutes, barely perceptible, at eleven minutes no pulse, at twelve minutes he was declared dead and Sheriff Norden ordered A P DeLin to take charge of the body. After hanging five minutes longer it was cut down and an hour later was buried at Lone Fir, followed to the grave by a large concourse of his countrymen.

THE PARTY'S REPRESENTATIVES

The Delegates Assembling—Lively Scenes about the City—The Strong Feeling for Blaine—Grant Men Scarce—The Determination to Nominate the Best Men—Unanimity and Harmony.

More than a week ago the delegates to the republican state convention to meet [illegible] day began to arrive and last evening the representation from almost the entire state was [illegible]. No former [illegible] of the party has been more largely [illegible] [illegible] by the [illegible] in the [illegible] person but by the leading republicans from all parts of the state. The Holton House, the Clarendon, St Charles, Esmond and other hotels were thronged [illegible] [illegible] convention [illegible] [illegible] late [illegible] state [illegible] [illegible] unmistakable in the co[illegible] [illegible] of the republican party with [illegible] has been [illegible] of the party [illegible] of the national [illegible] the republican [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty. The enthusiasm of the party was never greater than it seems to be at present, and while there is no dis[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] of the convention [illegible]

PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCES

Representatives of THE OREGONIAN yesterday afternoon and evening interviewed large numbers of delegates and representative republicans as they were gathered at the hotels as to their preference for president, and the result is that a proportion of about ten to one are for Blaine, and about seven to one are in favor of instructing the delegates to the national convention to cast their votes for him. With regard to a third term for Gen Grant fifty five sixths of those interviewed expressed themselves as opposed to his renomination and fully one [illegible] were in favor of passing a resolution to that effect [illegible] the convention to-day. However nearly every [illegible] opposed to Grant's renomination on the ground that it would have a tendency to weaken the ticket, pledge themselves in their hearty support [illegible] Chicago [illegible] saw fit to place him again at the head of the ticket in the coming campaign.

CONGRESSMAN

Upon the question of the selection of a candidate for congress no special interviews were had but from general conversations upon the subject among the delegates there is probably no one of the prominent candidates who will have a majority on the first ballot. The gentlemen most generally talked of are Messrs. Mallory and George, while Gen. Odell will start in with considerable strength. From the talk of most of the delegates if it can be shown that any man can make a more effective fight and poll a larger vote than any other, that man will be likely to be the nominee. Among all there is a set feeling that personal ambitions, local prejudices and factious opposition must be put aside and the foundation laid for harmony and shoulder to shoulder work in the coming canvass.

SUPREME JUDGES

For the important positions of judges of the supreme court there are quite a number of [illegible] and as all of those named are men of ability and high standing as lawyers the choice is [illegible] to fall on good men for the place fall where it may. Among those most strongly supported are Hon W Lair Hill of Wasco, J B Waldo, Esq of Multnomah, Hon R P Boise of Polk, Col Kelsay of Benton and Hon E B Watson of Jackson Co.

DISTRICT OFFICERS

The several district judges and prosecuting attorneys will be selected with reference to their ability to lead their party to success and to discharge the duties of the positions to which it is expected to elect them with honesty and faithfulness. There is none of the under current of dissatisfaction which prevailed in the democratic gathering at Albany recently. There is no disposition to show any determined opposition to any truly republican measure unless the nomination of Gen Grant may be so denominated. To that there are many delegates unflinchingly opposed.

Lecture by Dr E. P. Baily at the Unitarian Church

[illegible] filled last evening [illegible] lecture [illegible] to the social science course just closed.

Dr Baily understands the subject [illegible] and made [illegible] [illegible]

Hygiene is a knowledge [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] rather [illegible]

[illegible] burying [illegible] [illegible] yards. A few centuries [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] the burial [illegible] [illegible] of the dread disease [illegible] [illegible] garbage heaps and offal [illegible]

[illegible] stated.

Dr Billings says there are annually [illegible] from preventable diseases [illegible] [illegible] preventable causes. This lessens the productive efficiency [illegible] per cent [illegible] [illegible] unhealthy are more [illegible] than war and pestilence [illegible] the earth's surface [illegible] [illegible] the earth [illegible] healthy and harmless. The [illegible] may be found in the moisture of the soil [illegible] [illegible] contains human waste [illegible] map. Massachusetts based [illegible] [illegible] was verified [illegible]

Houses should be built [illegible] [illegible] the ceiling of our rooms. A dry [illegible] means good shoes—a point [illegible] [illegible] dries. Dry walls are dry [illegible] passing air back and forth to preserve [illegible] [illegible] breathe. The skin must be clean [illegible]

[illegible] two [illegible] [illegible] per [illegible] [illegible] 12 feet [illegible]. Exhalations from [illegible] lungs are greater [illegible] [illegible] clothing and [illegible] the ground [illegible] of the wash water. Add the [illegible] and washes from stables [illegible] etc. and the aggregate is appalling.

[illegible] should scarlet [illegible] and diphtheria and that it is found in the dependencies above mentioned. A common trunk has many branches and a person has this disease or that according to hereditary or predisposing causes. Braithwaite's Retrospect Jan 1880 p 3 3

Sewers and drains are for different purposes and must not be built together. Drains are to carry off surplus moisture and keep the water level as low as possible. Sewers are for conducting poisonous matter and hence must be perfectly water tight and air tight. If one is built to admit water here and there the same openings will permit the escape of the contents wherever the soil is dry. The sewer should be cylindrical or oval and be imbedded in puddled clay which is impervious to water. The drains may be above this and in the gravel, admitting the soil moisture. Sewers should be of equal size throughout. In Portland they are tapered to the high end. At each enlargement the water having more surface will deposit its sediment. Portland sewers have no ventilation but traps at the street corners and the speaker added the houses.

An unventilated sewer is as dangerous as a rattlesnake. Water running down a pipe is like a piston and draws everything after it; so a perpendicular pipe closed at the top having water let into it from one floor will draw the water from all the traps on the other floors leaving the branch pipes all open for sewer gas to return into the house. The pipe should run from the sewer to the top of the house having no obstruction and then the trap on each branch will be effective. This will also prevent any evil from expansion of gas in the sewer. Ventilators should be placed on sewers every 200 feet. An English town built closed sewers to prevent zymotic diseases but found them greatly increased and carried to upper end of sewer. Ventilation of the sewer at once produced the desired effect. Sewers must breathe and if the sewers of Portland are not better ventilated those in authority will be largely responsible for the amount of sickness and death which will inevitably be produced by the present arrangement.

Never have the same pipe furnish the water closet and kitchen but have two pipes from the main.

The lecture was preceded by a piano solo by Miss Villard and followed by a song from Miss Test. All were interested and it is believed that much good will come of Dr Baily's lecture.

Attention! Attention! Attention!

Is called to the fact that we have just received, per steamer State of California, a LARGE BANKRUPT STOCK, purchased in New York by MR. J FRANKLIN at 50 cents on the dollar, and the way we intend to show you that what we say is so, and not merely bragging, is by giving you a Price List that will astonish you all, and if these figures are not the LOWEST in Oregon, we will stand aside and take a back seat. Competition is the life of trade, and there is so much competition in Portland that goods must be sold low to gain trade, and owing to the facilities we have in having our own wholesale house in San Francisco at 18 and 20 Battery street, we will again state that our prices cannot be beat.

SAN FRANCISCO FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Freights—The Centaur, 1671 tons, wheat and assorted goods, for Liverpool. Only two vessels have been chartered for wheat this month. Rate nominally 40s, but in no event can there be much business, no matter how low the rates are, for wheat is not here in large quantities to go forward.

Bags and Bagging—Late rains have materially strengthened the market for wheat bags, and quotations are now 10⅝@10¾c for spot lots and 11@11½c for June delivery, with hardening tendency. A small consignment is at hand on the City of Peking. The Cashmere is 79 days out from Calcutta, and although due she is not expected until some time next month. Wool bags are in fair demand at 50@55c; potato gunnies, 13½@14c apiece; hops cloth, 12@15c per yard.

Coal—Yards are well supplied with all kinds. It is expected that the demand for tonnage here will soon greatly increase the number of cargoes afloat. We quote as follows: Mount Diablo, $4@4 50, Coos Bay, $6 75@7; Seattle, $7 50@7 50, Vancouver, $6@8, Wellington, $8@8 50; anthracite, $9@11; Cumberland, $12@15; foreign steam coals, $6 50@8.

Coffee—Importers complain of slow movement and nominal prices. We quote all merchantable grades of Central American at 15@16½c; Rio and Manila, 15@16; Ceylon, 18@19; Java, 25@25; ground coffee, 25.

Fish—Oregon canned salmon quotable for June delivery at $1 20@1 25, Pacific codfish jobbing at 3@3½c in 50 lbs bdls; 4@4½c for selected in 100 lb cases and 5@5½c for boneless.

Leather—Sole, 28@33c; harness, 32@40c; skirting, 32@37½c, calfskins, 70c@$1 10 per lb; wax and buff leather, 18@20c per foot; bridle, $4@7 per side; kipskins, $35@60 per dozen.

Metals—Nothing doing in pig iron and quotations are nominal at $35@45.

Nails—Jobbing price for assorted cargoes is $6 50 per keg.

Powder—California blasting, $3 25 per keg; giant, 60c for No. 2 and 75c for No. 1; Vulcan blasting, 70c for No. 1, 50c for No. 2 and 35c per lb for 2 to 3, with usual discount as to quantity.

Quicksilver—General asking price is 40c.

Rice—Mixed China, 5@5½c; Hawaiian table, 7@7½c.

Salt—Liverpool fine from warehouse, $18@19; Carmen Island, $14 for coarse and $20@22 for fine; California, $9 50@14 for coarse and $14@22 for fine.

Sugar—Refined grades steady as follows: Patent cube in bbls, 11c; crushed, 11c; extra powdered, 11¼c; fine crushed, 11c; dry granulated, 10¾c; extra granulated, 10½c; golden C, 9c; D, 8½c; extra C, 9½c for lots in bbls; in half bbls, ¼c extra, and boxes ½c more. No orders received for less than equivalent of 40 bbls.

Tea—Good medium grades of Japan jobbing at 40c@45c per pound.

Tobacco—Plug, 45c@70c for jobbing lots of various brands; smoking, 85c@$1 15; Connecticut leaf, 15c@25c.

Flour—Best city extra, $6 12½; bakers' extra, $5 87½@5 62½c; superfine, $3 50@$4; interior extra, $5@5 37½; interior superfine $3 50@$3 75; Oregon extra, $4 60@$5; choice do, $5 12½@$5 50; Oregon superfine, $3@$3 37½; Walla Walla extra, $5 12½@$5 50 per bbl. Purchasers of round lots can obtain concessions on above rates.

Wheat—Discouraging news from foreign sources yesterday had a demoralizing effect on our market. To-day there is no improvement in the situation, and prices continue to retrograde. On change there was little inquiry of moment, and the few sales made indicated anything but a feeling of confidence on the part of buyers and sellers. We quote No. 1 at $1 65@1 67½; No. 2, $1 57½@1 62½.

Onions—For all consignments that are coming in there is good sale, at 3½@3¾c; market active and buoyant.

Butter—Market in good condition and prices steady at current quotations. Packing among dairymen is more general, and the effect on quotations is favorable. We quote good to choice at 18@19c, with occasional sales above and below these rates; inferior to ordinary, 15@17c; new keg, 18@19c for store and 19@21c for ranch packed.

Provisions—Business continues to improve and prices are well sustained and buoyant. California hams 10c; California smoked bacon 9@9½cts for heavy and medium, and 10@10½c for light and extra light; clear sides 10@10½c.

Wool—We fail to hear of any large sales. Shipments to the east by rail and sail have been made during the week. Local mills buying sparingly for manufacturing and scouring. Probably 250 bales will cover sales for the week. At present prices there are no buyers, and warehouses are gradually filling up. Daily receipts are between 500 and 1000 bales. For want of better data we quote nominal at 24@26c for burry, 26@28 for free, and 28@30 for choice long fleece southern.

Hides and Skins—Tendency downward. Eastern advices quote market dull at 22@23c for California dry. Local dealers are paying the following cash rates: Dry hides, usual selection, 18@18½c; culls one third less, and Mexican hides 1c per lb less; dry kip and calf, 18 to 18½c.

Gold and Stock Company's Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.

Receipts—4500 qr sks flour, 4000 ctls wheat, 2500 sks potatoes, 8000 doz eggs.

Chartered—Br ship Centaur, with wheat for Liverpool, private.

Butter and Eggs—Firmer and demand fair.

Cereals—All nominal in absence of business, which is checked by the prevailing storm.

Hides—Dry, kip and calf continue weak.

Onions—Scarce and wanted at $2 60@3.

Oats—Choice feed, $1 45@1 60; demand strong.

Dried Fruit—All kinds firm and quiet.

Salmon—Columbia river standard brands dead and nominal.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, April 20.

Wheat—$1 08½ for May.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide, yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of DR. MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver; is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting, inflammation, calculi, brick-dust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists, say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

DR. PAUL M. SPENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast,
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. SPENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for his

Catarrhal
DR. SCA

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local and finally constitutional.

2. That, being constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3. That impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa, and Consumption.

5. That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.

6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

W. D. WOODS, 187 Broadway, N. Y., Cured of Chronic Catarrh.
F. J. HASLETT, 80 Broadway, N. Y., 4 yrs Catarrh.
G. L. BRUSH, 413 Broadway, N. Y., 10 yrs Catarrh.
S. BENEDICT, Jr., Jeweler, 697 Broadway, N. Y., (lady friend), cured of Chronic Hay Fever.
MRS. EMMA C. HOWES, 31 W. Washington Square, N. Y., cured of 30 years Chronic Catarrh.
REV. GEO. A. REES, 169 Jay St., Brooklyn: "It restored me to my ministerial labors."
REV. CHAS. J. JONES, New Brighton, S. I.: "Worth ten times the cost."
REV. ALEX. FREES, Cairo, N. Y.: "It has worked wonders in six cases in my parish."
L. F. NEWMAN, 805 Fulton St., Brooklyn, cured of 4 years Chronic Catarrh.
MRS. J. SWARTZ, JR., 200 Warren St., Jersey City, cured of 25 years Chronic Catarrh.
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

A real cure for this terrible malady, is the most important discovery for the relief of human suffering, since vaccination. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure is sold by all Druggists, or delivered by D. B. DEWEY & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y. for $1.50 a package. To Clubs, six packages for $7.50. Dr. Wei De Meyer's Treatise, with full explanations and overwhelming proofs, is Post-paid and sent free to anybody.

For the treatment of Sexual Diseases, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, Impotency, Seminal Weakness. Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, and produces the following symptoms, unless combatted by scientific measures, viz: Sallow countenance, specks before the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, flushes, pimples and eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. Persons may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued. Medicines forwarded free from curiosity, with full directions, on enclosing Ten Dollars in registered letter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the World. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, Box 1,957, San Francisco. Say you read this in THE OREGONIAN.

DR. SPINNEY,
No. 11 Kearny Street.
Treats all Chronic and Special Diseases.

YOUNG MEN
WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5. Call or address
